

Happy Woman

Beauty lucky variety shalws for health

Design by :
Nantiya Na nongkai
Charuwan Tadadej
Thitiporn Tadadej

The belief in auspicious colors in everyday clothes is very important and influential in Thai society. Especially on special days the color of the clothes and decorations will be chosen with lucky colors. Therefore, it is the source and inspiration for the design of shawls that can choose the color according to the needs of the day by folding and tying according to the tones that are divided on the design. There are 4 colors in 1 piece which can choose to fold and use the color you want. There are total 2 pieces in this collection for users to choose as appropriate to enhance their confidence and fun to use in a typical Happy Woman style.

Name: Nantiya Na Nongkai

Organization: Rajamangala University of Technology Isan

Country: Thailand

Title: Happy Woman

Size: 120 x 120 cm.

Technique: Digital print on satin

Name: Naphat Chanyou

Organization: Phuket Rajabhat University

Country: Thailand

Title: Nians

Size: 42 x 30 cm.

Technique: 3D Digital

Name: Nattakamol Toongsuwan

Organization: Sripatum University

Country: Thailand

Title: Hometown Countryside

Size: 45 x 17 cm.

Technique: Digital Art - 2D Painting and 3D Model